EDITORIAL

We are indeed very happy to present you this Third Volume July-Sept.2016 of Indian Journal of Applied Homoeopathy to our esteemed readers and professional colleagues. We are extremely thankful to the profession for appreciating our earlier issue on "Injury group of remedies". This issue is exclusive on Infective Illness, which we come across every day in our clinical practice.

This issue comprises of the peer reviewed articles by Dr. Kishore Mehta, Mumbai, Dr. M. Kamat Manglore, evolving an integrated approach in the management of infective illness.

The issue has a research article "Does Homoeopathy Work in Acute Morbidity of Chikungunya and Post-Chikungunya Musculo-skeletal Disorders?" by Dr. Maneesha Solanki, Principal and Professor, Department of Medicine, D.S. Homoeopathic Medical College & Hospital, Pune (Mah).

Faculty of JIMS Homoeopathic Medical College & Hospital has contributed articles, depicting an approach to the management of Infective illness.

Dr. Reetha Krishnan, MD (Hom), Pediatrics, MPH (USA), Medical Superintendent, JIMS Hospital has elaborated at length the management of Diarrhea in Pediatrics, Dr. Mohammed Irfan, M.D(Hom)-Paeds, An Approach to Enteric Fever with Homoeopathy & the Article on Homoeopathic Approach to Malarial Fever by Dr. Hini Joshi, M.D. (Hom), Medicine under the guidance of Dr. Navin Pawaskar (M.D., (Hon.) MICR, MPA (USA), CPDM, USA gives insight to the management of the Infective Illnesses.

The management of JIMS Homoeopathic Medical College & Hospital has adopted an integrated approach in training and teaching at both vertical and horizontal levels in class room as well at bedside clinical training, so as to produce competent graduates to practice homoeopathy in rural and urban area.

We highly appreciate the team of Institute of Practicing Homoeopathy (IPH), an organization of few enthusiastic homoeopaths working for academic endeavor for conducting a workshop at JIMS homoeopathic Medical College & Hospital, Hyderabad and also formulating a report on Perception analysis of the students of the First Batch of BHMS (2015-16) of this institution which will reproduced in the next issue Oct.-Dec. 2016.
